TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF KENTUCKY.

It is my duty to tell you that the outfit for democratic victory all along the line is good, and if each one of you will do your duty, as I know you will, our grand old State will again take its place in the democratic column where it belongs.

The contest is between democracy and republicanism, and is of such magnitude that it will control congressional elections next year, and may determine the presidential election in 1900. All men who oppose the rule of the republican party fight with us, and those who favor republican rule oppose us.

A few spoilsmen and enemies of our party, calling themselves democrats, who expect personal advantage from the deception, keep our State ticket in the background, and would have you join them in the betrayal of it.

The open enemy challenges respect by his boldness, but those who fight for him, while pretending to be hostile, and against us, while pretending to be friendly, are entitled to be watched, but not to be trusted or respected.

Any man who seeks local success at the expense of our State candidate is the enemy of the democratic party, State and National, and forfeits all claim to democratic confidence or support.

The acceptance of a democratic nomination is a pledge of loyalty to the party and to its nominees. A candidate who does not so consider it has no claims on democratic voters.

The interests of our party demand that you should not make any alliance that does not strengthen our State ticket, or recognize the claims of any candidate to your support who does not work for Shackelford, and avow his purpose to vote for him.

Between candidates who do not support our nominee for clerk of the court of appeals, democrats are free to choose, whether such candidates claim to be democrats or to belong to the republican party or its helpers.

Splendid work is being done throughout the State, especially by local organizations which keep in mind the importance of both State and local success. In places where corrupt men are willing to abandon principle for plunder, the rank and file are on guard and will see that the betrayal is not consummated.

Let each man do his duty and we will take the place at the head of the column that will redeem Congress and elect the next president.

P. P. JOHNSTON,
Chairman State Central and Executive Committees.

$10,000 DAMAGES

IS WHAT EDITOR MARET WANTS FROM A MALICIOUS DEFAMER.

To the Editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL:
MT. VERNON, Oct. 27.—A suit for $10,000 damages was filed here yesterday by James Maret, editor of the Signal, against B. J. Bethurum, a young attorney, a son of County Judge Bethurum. In the present canvass, young Bethurum has been speaking in the interest of his party. At Pine Hill last Saturday night, in his speech, he attacked the character of the editor of the Signal, who has been taking an active part in the canvass. He stated that the editor had stolen $500 from the L. & N. R. R. and had been discharged from the service on that account. The young man appears to have gone daft since he sees his father's defeat. In the air and has grown reckless in his statements.

ANY SOBER MAN COULD HAVE FOUND HIM.

WAYNESBURG, Oct. 27.—I wrote you on the 23 last in regard to a statement under the head of matrimonial, of your issue of the 22nd, and which I think was an injustice to me, saying I could not be found in the city of Louisville. I went first to the Farmers' Home Hotel, after the arrival of the train. There I remained except when the Masonic Grand Lodge was in session on corner of 4th and Jefferson, as I have plenty of proof to show, if needs be. Any sober man could have found either of those places. I would rather not appear as in some den or hall that could not be found.

E. B. CALDWELL.

It seems to be the very irony of fate that a pretentious building erected for a church by a sect of abstainers who called themselves Bible Christians who ate no meat and regarded the killing of animals as sinful, in Philadelphia, should now be used by a firm of pork packers and sausage makers.

The Pullman company's revenue for the last fiscal year was almost $9,000,000, a decrease of more than a quarter of a million dollars. Wouldn't you hate to die and leave even that behind as old man Pullman has done?

Fannie O'Bannon, the 15-year-old girl, who threw her school books away and ran off to Cincinnati, was brought back to Lexington. She says she left because her parents would not let her have company.

QUALIFICATIONS OF COUNTY JUDGE.

AND THE LATE POOR-HOUSE STEAL.

To the Editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL:
CRAB ORCHARD, Oct. 27.—There are two points which the people of this end of the county have asked me to write upon for your paper, to-wit: The qualifications of a county judge and the late leasing of the poor-house, or letting out of the paupers of the county.

In regard to the former I hold that there is not one of the very able lawyers of Lincoln county qualified for that office, some are only better qualified than others. The circuit judge has the ablest lawyers in his district reading for him all the time from one term to another and when the difficult and intricate questions come up before him, there is the law upon each side read and quoted by the ablest lawyers in the district and the circuit judge is thoroughly informed upon the law of the case before he is required to decide it.

Not so with the county judge before whom the abler members of the bar do not practice, and he must do his own reading and thinking, and often he guesses at law and justice and strikes wide of the mark and often does an irreparable injury—an injury without appeal, not even a review can be had.

What kind of interpretation can he be enabled to give who is a stranger to the text upon which he comments? One attorney files a petition, the other demands. Is your demurrer general or special? This legal parlance the judge does not understand. Demurrer overruled or sustained, then answer, then reply, then rejoinder, then surrejoinder, then rebutter, then surrebutter, what kind of butter does the bewildered court think that is? Common sense can give no relief here. See the great drops of agonizing sweat upon his wrinkled brow. And he wishes he was mowing. James P. Bailey is not a lawyer by profession, but his experience as sheriff and circuit clerk has thoroughly equipped him for the office of county judge. Twelve years under Morrow and Saufley! What a law school! No man can listen for 12 years to the Hills and Aleorns, the Weels and Sanfleys, the Paxtons and Bobbets, without being fully qualified for the office of county judge. Then the instructions of such learned and profound judges as Morrow and Saufley for 12 years, is better than a law school. All this James P. Bailey has had the advantage of. Why one of the old pillars of the old court-house has almost absorbed enough law for that purpose.

The last case of leasing of the poor-house appears to be of this nature: The two democratic justices voted for the lowest and best bidder, the two republican magistrates voted for the highest bid, which was no better otherwise. The acting county judge was placed in this attitude: If I vote for Wells I shall only do my duty, I shall gain no votes by it. But if I do not vote for Chadwick, the republican, I shall lose the bulk of the republican party and consequently the office of county judge with all its salary and fees. It was a close, hard place and in a moment of weakness, the aspirant for that position yielded and fell, and virtually took a portion of the hard-earned tax money of the people and gave it to a friend and partisan and incidentally and almost directly, took that much of the people's money to buy the office. That is the length and breadth of it, the height and depth of it. But he had an illustrious precedent, Rutherford B. Hayes, who was defeated by 19 of the electoral college and 169,000 of the popular vote. But some say the two partisan magistrates who voted for the highest bid deserve as much censure as the county judge himself. Suppose we admit it. Only one of them is a candidate for re-election.

Fellow-citizens of Lincoln county knoweth thou not yet that Egypt is destroyed—than the people are being taxed to death? Taxes 96 cents on the $100. Taxes will soon assume the proportions of a mortgage. Something must be done to stay the gigantic waves of corruption now sweeping over the country. Your remedy is at the ballot box.

Next Tuesday say by your votes to the waves of corruption, favoritism and extravagance thus far shalt thy blighting waves come and no further—here shalt thy desolating waves be stayed. Let the rooster with his sharp nails rake the red autumn leaves mountain high on extravagance and corruption!

FONTAINE FOX BOHRETT.

The Black Diamond railroad seems to be a go between Cynthiana and Dover. The right of way has been obtained, the line surveyed and the contract to build the line has been executed. Cynthiana and Dover papers are filled with congratulations.

In 1873 there were in the whole country 802 paper mills, which produced yearly 317,637 tons of paper. Now there are 1,178 mills that produce daily (not annual) 13,000 tons of paper.

It took $1,100,000 to pay this quarter's pensions in Kentucky.

HUSTONVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Middleton are grandparents agalo. Mrs. Gray, their daughter, has a wee baby girl at their home.

Col. W. G. Welch was visiting with his friends here this week; also handsome Harve Helm, talking up his election and to some pretty ladies.

Misses Grace Tudor and Hallie Edmiston entertained Tuesday evening Mrs. J. F. Cummings and Misses Eva Steger and Lizzie Beazley at tea.

Mrs. D. B. Edmiston is visiting her good husband in Lawrenceburg this week. Mrs. D. C. Payne has improved sufficiently to go out driving since her recent severe illness.

One of our youngest and most energetic widowers living on Stanford St. is repairing his house inside and out. It looks very suspicious and as though he expects to occupy it as a home in the near future.

Judge M. C. Santley and Messrs. H. C. Warren and G. T. Farris spoke to a fair audience Tuesday afternoon. As Mr. Farris is one of our former townsmen we would be pleased to see him elected. Now democrats stand to your colors next Tuesday and we will elect our good ticket.

Rev. Goshwiler and children have rented Mrs. Sallie A. Higgins' property on Lancaster street and have gone to housekeeping. We are glad to have them our citizens. Mr. Mike Kennedy has moved into Mr. John Holmes' house and his friends seem to enjoy having him in town, also his pleasant wife. Mr. J. Will James, our clever distiller, was in Cincinnati the past few days.

Pothe here is still very quiet. In fact not mentioned, unless some camp dates drop in. This, however, is not the situation in the "State of Casey." The divulging of the names of an alleged Green Goods Company, several of whom are very prominently connected, has caused a "Vesuvius eruption" throughout the entire length and breadth of the county and the end is not yet.

We met the president of the cattle combine, Mr. J. C. Coulter, who informs me that Mr. McCormack's statement to your correspondent in last week's issue, was in more than one instance incorrect. He stated now that Mr. McCormack was accepted as a member and has by him been appointed secretary and that as soon as George Camden pays his entrance fees, he will be made vice president.

MATRIMONIAL.

E. W. Lefever, of Boyle, and Mrs. Geneva Stringer, of this county, were made one yesterday.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Murphy, of Fairmont, W. Va., obtained a divorce from one husband and married another less than 20 minutes.

John Wayne, aged 49, and three times a widower, surprised his friends at Fairview, Ill., by marrying a 15-year-old school girl.

James Turner, who has seen but 18 summers, and Miss Etta May Dowell, upon whose golden hair the suns of but 15 years have shown, were married at Kriger yesterday.

James M. Cayce, a wealthy planter of Christian county, aged 70 years, was married to his niece, Miss Ella Johnson, only 20. Cayce, who had been a widower four times, lost his last wife less than three months ago.

A bride was killed in a singular manner at Greenville, Miss. The couple went to spend the night with a friend. Under the head of the bed a pistol had been hidden from the children. When the sheets were turned down, the weapon fell to the floor and was discharged, the bullet striking the bride near the clavicle bone, ringing downward. She died in 15 minutes.

KINGSVILLE.—The marriage which was announced in your last issue to take place to-day, has actually passed into history. At her mother's this morning at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Father Thomas, of Danville, Miss Agnes P. Pennybacker was joined in holy wedlock to Mr. Daniel P. Deneen, of Lexington. The only attendants were Mr. T. J. Deneen, brother of the groom, and Miss Gertrude, the handsome sister of the bride. The bride is one of Kingsville's most charming young ladies and is beloved by all, but most by those who know her best. The groom is a young man who commands the respect of all who know him. He is now a popular conductor on the Cincinnati Southern. Only a few of their most intimate friends were present on the occasion. A delightful entertainment in the way of refreshments, were served after the ceremony. The young couple will leave on the noon train today for an Eastern honeymoon trip. They will take in Washington City, Boston, Canada and return by Niagara Falls. Every thing in this case conspires to take this out of the list of marriage failures. The blessings of all go with them.

ALTHOUGH we shall have one more issue before the battle of the ballots begins, this is the last INTERIOR JOURNAL, which will be read by a majority of its patrons before it is fought and won. We, therefore, wish to make a last appeal to those who have a spark of democracy in their breasts and who want to see our affairs administered by honest and capable officials, to line up with us for the fray and stand shoulder to shoulder with us in the effort to drive the unfaithful and incompetent party to the last ditch of their destruction. The record that the republican party has made in the State and those counties where they have gotten control of the offices is written with fraud and corruption. In our county, matters have been going from bad to worse. Taxes have been heaped upon us, party men have been rewarded by direct payment out of the public treasury and incompetency and venality everywhere appears. Let us change this order of things, democrat of whatever name you wish to be called, and by a tremendous majority scourge the unfaithful servants from the temple.

The democratic ticket presented above is all that any honest man could wish. It is composed of honest, capable and worthy men, whose pride it will be, if elected, to lift the county from the slough into which it has been drawn. They are good men, they are true men and as a whole are as much above the republican layout as the stars are above the earth. Vote for them, work for them and victory will perch upon our banners.

Stamp under the rooster and in the square enclosing him and that will insure your vote to be counted for the full democratic ticket from appellate clerk to constable.

It has been proved that Parker, the populist nominee for appellate clerk, is simply a "decoy duck" in the present race, his candidacy being purely in the interest of Bailey, with whom doubtless he has made a dickey for the division of the spoils. At Murray when the worthies met in their so-called joint debate, after Parker had spoken, S. K. Taylor, a well-known Paducah populist, read a letter from K. J. Hampton, chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee, to a leading republican of Murray, telling him that he had arranged the debate for that place, feeling confident that it would do the republican candidate, Breathitt, great good for circuit clerk, as Parker is for him and is fighting democracy from the shoulder. He showed that Parker is in the pay of the Mark Hanna crowd, and indignation was depicted on every countenance as Taylor proceeded further to show the duplicity of Parker, who sneaked out of town and made no response. The whole ship's crew is fighting Shackelford, from Hindman up, but the democrats are onto the racket and will triumphantly elect him in spite of republican populist coalition, other seekers after the flesh pots and the devil.

SENATOR TELLER, in a letter, foresees the absorption of the republican party by the gold democrats. The Senator is mistaken. The reverse of the proposition seems more certain of consummation. Look at Bourke Cochran and many of the erstwhile democratic leaders. Gone entirely over to the enemy, Cochran now making speeches for Tracy in New York. It is always so, because when a man starts to the devil he goes at a two-minute gait. It will be remembered that this worthy was hauled around the country to make speeches for Palmer and Buckner. That was his first step downward. The next was natural and easy.

WHATSOEVER it may be worth the INTERIOR JOURNAL tenders to the home democracy its sincere conviction that Lincoln county will, on next Tuesday, take the initial step to resume its place as the banner democratic county in this section of the State. A few years ago it was our proud boast that the democracy of no other county could present a more solid, a bolder front to a political foe than ours. Defeat will some times come to the best of men and the best of parties. Even Jupiter occasionally nods. But it does not lie within the compass of the power of the republicans to elect a single one of their county ticket at the approaching election. We are united on those grounds common to all democrats. No divisions or dissensions are in our ranks. There are no faint hearts in our alignment. There are no grievances to avenge. There are no hates to placate. There are neither grumblers nor backbiters.

On the other hand the republicans must of necessity feel the weight of anticipated disappointment. They have sent to the rear the man who organized their forces and led them to their first and most memorable victory. Bradley, who has attempted to give to the State an honest administration, has been unceremoniously snubbed by the very men who have achieved place and prominence only by his industry and ability. The loud and noisy demonstration on our streets Tuesday night was but a glare of horns over the discomfiture of Bradley. Deboe and Hunter became jealous of his strength and influence with his party and began to corral the worst elements of their party to accomplish his overthrow. But the better element remains with the Governor and will refuse to unite in the peans of praise to the Gum Shoe Statesman and his gang of pie hunters.

With our own party thus united in its aims, its policies, its purposes and its hopes; with the republicans divided, disheartened and scrambling over post-offices, still-houses and collectorships, we perceive no reason why we may not safely forecast the result next Tuesday. Let all democrats, all men who love good government, honest and economical home rule, come decently and in order, and come certainly to the polls and the victory is ours.

WILL decent republicans stop and consider who are in the saddle now, or at least who are trying to get in it, of their once tolerably respectable party? And will they further inquire why it is Gov. Bradley, who represents the honest wing of the party and who is trying to serve the State to the best of his ability, is shelved to make room for such adventurers and pretenders as Hunter, Deboe, Todd and other such cattle? These men represent all that is mean, contemptible and low in politics. They are the dark lantern crowd, up to any kind of game and allowing nothing, however disreputable, to stand in their way of success. Such men are now parading as the head of the party while Gov. Bradley, to whom the party in this State owes every thing, including the victories of the last two elections, is left in the back ground, his only offense being that he declined to assist in the election of such a man as Hunter to the U. S. Senate or to be a party to the many dark transactions that were enacted at Frankfort. Not a speaker of the mealy crew that was here the other night had a word to say of Gov. Bradley's administration, or a word of commendation for him, whatever. Why is this? Simply because Gov. Bradley has stood in the way of the consummation of their methods, being the one man in the board of sinking fund commissioners who has dared to do right regardless of party, in the chair contract-matter and others, and to punish the guilty no matter whether he is friend or relative. Do the old line republicans like the capers of their new masters? If not let us have a new deal and a vindication of the man who is trying to stand by the interests of the State, which is of necessity their interests.

"THE democrats have been requisite to every trust," said Senator Deboe here the other night, thereby awkwardly complimenting those whom he doubtless wished to condemn. He was trying to say "recreant" doubtless, but a man who speaks of dead corpses and goes to sleep and snores in the Senate is liable to use any kind of word, when he attempts to address an audience. Fortunately most of his hearers are as ignorant as he is and do not realize his rawest breaks.

"THE Day's News Sketched," is a new feature of the Louisville Commercial, which is a decidedly interesting one. In it the general, State and local news is told in short, crisp paragraphs, which saves the hurried reader from wading through columns to get what is given in a few words. Keep it up, gentlemen. It is a monstrous labor saver for your country cousins of the quill.

Mr. CLARENCE E. WOODS has an excellent article in the Richmond Climax on republican misrule and mismanagement, National, State and county, which is an earnest appeal to the sturdy, honest yeomanry to say by their votes next Tuesday that they are tired of it and desire a return to democratic honesty and an economical administration of governmental affairs.

IN the Courier-Journal of Tuesday Mr. Watterson virtually admits the prospect of Hindman are very poor and says that "If the vote for Mr. Hindman is an inconsiderable vote, it will show one of two things; either that the masses of the democratic party are bent on having another trial of the slave issue with Mr. Bryan in the lead, or else that they are indifferent to the issue." And then it adds: "In either case those who have made themselves responsible for the movement will go no further." This is a surrender in advance and shows that the great editor has seen the handwriting on the wall. The Louisville Post, which opposed the nomination of Hindman still thinks it a mistake, though it has apparently supported him, and says that Mr. Shaeford will be elected by the influence of the local tickets, in entire forgetfulness of the Frankfort platform and Mr. Bryan.

A CERTIFIED copy of the record sent from Rockcastle shows that D. P. Bethurum, who is the republican candidate for county judge, has been indicted for every crime in the catalogue from fornication to adultery and grand larceny. He is a sweet-scented shrub to be presented for office. Vote for Williams.

POLITICS

State Inspector Lester's report on the management of the feeble-minded institute roasts Dr. Huff and the commissioners, the former for not dismissing employees between whom improper relations existed and the latter for many infractions of duty.

Hon. J. N. Saunders, of Springfield, a sound money democrat, spoke to 15 people at Stuart's Opera House last Tuesday night. Saunders is a bright fellow, but he is on a cold trail trying to convert the mountain people to Corbin Journalists.—Corbin News.

It pains us to observe that the administration is daily becoming obnoxious to the sound money democrats simply because it deprives them of the privilege of holding on to the offices which Mr. Cleveland bestowed upon them. We were all along informed that the sound money democrats were actuated by the most lofty motives.

Harry A. Cassin, ex-bank cashier, of Atlanta, Ga., charged with the embezzlement of $71,000, is a fugitive from justice. He is believed to be in South Africa.

Walter Hahn, an inmate of the Hopkinsville asylum, met death in a horrible manner. He had a fit and fell into a tub of slop head foremost and was drowned.

Sigmund Vogel, alias W. G. Florne, alias Prof. Sam Wilder, was arrested at Lexington for using the mails for immoral purposes by the clever work of a woman detective.

Frank Hines, of Princeton, N. J., was bitten by dog and thinking that the canine was mad and that he might have hydrocephalus, he drank sufficient carbolic acid to kill him.

Joe Litteral, a Rushville, Ind., brute, shot at his little daughters when they worried him by singing. He had been on a spree and fortunately his aim was unsteady and the load went wide of its mark.

The Great Northern Railway has let the contract for a branch across Minnesota, a distance of 225 miles. This is the largest contract for a long time. About 1,000 men will be given employment in the work.

Yellow fever shows no signs of abatement at New Orleans. Wednesday's record being 11 deaths and 52 new cases. There were three deaths at Mobile and two at Memphis. The coast towns of Mississippi continue to report large numbers of new cases.

A severe snow-storm raged in Colorado Tuesday. Great damage was done in Denver by the snow, miles of wire being prostrated. Railroads are suffering greatly and many lines are blocked. In Western Nebraska there is snow and sleet.

Middleburg, Casey Co.

A delightful social was given by Mrs. John Wesley in honor of Cornelius and Harvey Royalty, of Washington county. A good crowd was present and enjoyed themselves very much.

Very few rads from this neck went to hear Denny at Liberty. A good crowd was present to hear the "judge" but all in all the speech was not what the rads expected of such a gun as George Denny. A few more such speeches as Denny and Finley made in this county, and Casey would be in line.

Green River is lower than it was ever known, only a stagnant pool here and there, except a large pool at the mill. Several schools in the Southern part of this county and Russell have been closed on account of no water. Prof. W. S. Ford was in the Bethel vicinity Saturday in the interest of his school.

And here comes another. The rads have had Judge Vincent Boerling of London, to make seven speeches in the county this week, and H. W. Aaron is also scouring the county in the interest of the county ticket. He comes from Jamestown and is the republican nominee for Commonwealth's attorney and is running against the Hon. Nobody.

Chairman W. P. Keeney is confined to his room with rheumatism. McD. Royalty is at the bedside of his sick father, Emelick Royalty. Jason Coffey will spend the winter in Florida. Miss Lena Klimbrell, of Russell Springs, passed through this city Saturday en route to Washington City.

Rev. F. S. Creech preached at the M. E. church Sunday. Dr. J. S. Wesley has returned from Louisville. Mrs. I. S. Wesley has returned from Frankfort. Mack Humphrey, of Liberty, was in town Thursday. V. R. Colemen will be at home to vote. Mrs. W. I. Gann, who is visiting at Nashville, will return home this week.

J. P. Clayton and W. S. Sharp, of Russell, the democratic and republican nominees for representative, spoke at the opera house at Yosemite last Thursday night on which was the best qualified to represent us at Frankfort. Clayton is fine looking young man of 21, and is a fine orator and feels confident that the voters will keep Sharp at home where he belongs. It would be a disgrace to Casey county to let such a man as Sharp represent it. Hon. George T. Farris, our standard bearer for State Senator, was present. He made a short but pitiful speech of one minute and the meeting terminated into an old fashioned democratic love feast with loud and continued applause of "Hurrah for Farris." Hon. B. B. King was in our section last week lecturing. He gave a certain democrat a card with his name on it and the office which he was seeking. The democrat replied that that was a half of a sign to see "two bees and a King." King will carry Casey probably 200.

STANFORD, KY., OCTOBER 29, 1897

E. C. WALTON, BUSINESS MANAGER.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. GEORGE B. WEAREN went to Cincinnati Tuesday.

W. H. BRADY was in Louisville this week buying goods.

DRS. J. G. CARPENTER and Steele Bailey went to Nashville Tuesday.

MISSES FANNIE SHANKS and Dollie McRoberts went to Louisville Wednesday.

MRS. BENEDICT SPALDING, of Lebanon, is visiting her father, Col. T. P. Hill.

MISSES IDA AND ANNIE McCULLUM, of Richmond, are guests of Mrs. Wm. Klee.

MISS MARY WILLIAMS, a Hustonville beauty, is the guest of the Misses Ellis.

MRS. MATTIE DUNCAN, of Garrard, on her return from Nashville, is visiting Mrs. S. W. Givens.

MR. JESSE G. SWEENEY, of Lancaster, went to Adair yesterday to attend the funeral of an aunt.

MRS. ANNIE LASLEY and Miss Sue Lasley were registered at the Nashville Centennial Tuesday.

JUDGE H. R. CAMNITZ, postmaster at Hustonville, and his pretty daughter, Miss Edna, were here Wednesday.

DR. A. S. PRICE and Wallace W. Withers left for Cincinnati yesterday via Louisville, and had delightful company to the latter city.

MRS. LUCY SIMPSON returned Wednesday from a visit to her niece, Miss Verben Dawson, at Midway, who is attending college there.

MRS. GUS HOFMANN, Mrs. E. G. Dick, and Misses Margaret Buchanan and Mollie Brooks went to the Nashville Exposition, Tuesday night.

MRS. ELIZA PORTMAN left yesterday for Mt. Sterling to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. H. R. Bright, to the regret of her many friends.

MR. WALLACE W. WALTER is out after a hard seige by typhoid fever. His vocal organs somehow became involved and he can speak only in a whisper.

MR. JOSEPH SWOFF and family, who have spent several years in Indiana, are visiting their many friends in this county, prior to moving to Knoxville.

MR. A. C. SINE has received letters patent for his "Quick Change Money Drawer," which he recently invented, and is now fairly on the road to wealth and fame.

MRS. PEARL REED, who was Miss White, orders her paper to 97 E. Main, Lexington, adding: "I had much rather miss my dinner than the INTERIOR JOURNAL."

MR. M. S. PEYTON has returned from Louisville, where he went after his sister, Miss Sis Peyton, whose health had gone down. She is now at J. Steele Carpenter's and improving.

MISS MINNIE MCCLAIN, who made hosts of friends while on a visit to the Misses Owsley at Walnut Flat, left for her home at Lebanon, Tenn., yesterday, leaving many regretful hearts.

MISS IDA TWIDWELL, who was down from Hustonville Tuesday, accompanied by Judge J. Beecher Adams, told us that water was so scarce there that she had to pay $1 for eight barrels.

C. S. NIELD, of the North Jellico Coal Co. at Grays, was on Tuesday's train and told us that he had succeeded in settling the strike at his mines, which have been shut down for four months, and the men had returned to work.

HON. F. P. CONQUEST, Judge J. D. Belden and Dr. O. H. McRoberts, of Casey, attended the republican speaking here Tuesday. The first named is president of the telephone line between McKinney and Liberty and has been having some much needed repairing done.

MR. WOOD WALKER, of Garrard, who was married in Entield, Ill., to Miss Sallie May, arrived with his bride yesterday. His sisters, Misses Jane and Mattie Walker, and brother, Ed Walker, who went to see the knot tied, also returned. Mr. John Walker, of this place, took the party home from the train.

NOTICE.—All persons having claims against the estate of the late Greenberry Bright will present them to the executors at the Farmers Bank by December 1, 1897, or they will be barred.

HEN, the nine-year-old son of Robert G. Martin, of the Turnersville section, died a few days ago of blood poisoning caused by white swelling and was buried in the Campbell burying ground.

POLICE JUDGE.—That's what J. Beecher Adams is at Hustonville now. He was appointed by Gov. Bradley on the recommendation of the city council of his town, and was down Tuesday to take the oath.

JUDGE WILLIS BARNETT asks us to say that whoever started the report that he would not vote the full democratic ticket is a falsifier of the meanest kind. He will stamp as he always does under the rooster.

HOD PITMAN, a Negro, was taken to Louisville by Deputy Sheriff R. M. Newland Wednesday to answer a charge of stealing two watches from Mollie Williams, also colored. Eb Lawson arrested him in Lancaster Monday.

SPEAKING.—Judge M. C. Snuelley and other candidates will speak at:

Maywood, Friday, Oct. 29th, 1 p.m.
Ottendorf, Friday, October 29th, at 7 p.m.

Waynesburg, Saturday, October 30th, at 1 p.m.

All voters are cordially invited.

HOW TO VOTE.—The best way to do so is to mark in the square in which the rooster appears on the ballot, and that will take in all the democratic candidates, but if you will scratch and do not know how, ask the election officers to explain to you. The law makes it their duty to do so.

21 YEARS.—The court of appeals affirms the decision of the Garrard circuit court, fixing the punishment of James Tudor, implicated in the killing of Sebastian, at 21 years. This result, however, after the principals in the killing had been acquitted, seems a sort of a parody on justice.

SOME of our esteemed critics are saying that we quoted Shakespeare incorrectly in our last issue when we printed that "comparisons are odious," claiming that it should be odious. A reference to "Much Ado About Nothing," Act IV, Scene 5, in which Dogberry and Verges engage in conversation, will show that we are as usual, right.

UNTRUE.—Mrs. Sue Holmes, who was here yesterday, says it is untrue that her bid for the paupers in 1892 was higher than Mr. Wells'. It was $10 lower on adults and $5 on children, she says. We hear further that Dawson promised Chadwick his vote, after he was turned down by the democrats last spring, and the reason so few people are sent to the poor-house, now, is that Mr. Chadwick does not want any but those who can work on the farm, which his bid for the paupers is alone to get.

THE variety entertainment for the benefit of the Stanford Public School, colored, which will occur at Walton's Opera House to-night, will consist of singing, in solos, duets, quartettes and choruses; waiter and broom drills, and ending with a "eake walk" with contesting couples from Danville, Lancaster, Crab Orchard and Stanford. It will be well worth the small admission of 25 cents, and as it is for a good cause the managers hope the white people, for whom seats have been reserved, will patronize it liberally.

THE republicans claim to have $3,000 in the treasury. How did they get it? Simply by increasing the tax in the county to pay back to the banks the amount of their taxes paid under protest. The money was collected under promise that it should be refunded to the banks if the decision of the courts of last resort is in their favor. The case is now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States with the probability that it will decide that the banks are exempt from local taxation under the Hewitt law. Then the $2,500 or $3,000 surplus will be turned into the treasures of the banks and the people will be left with the bag to hold as usual.

LOST express money order, payable to M. Carey. Leave at INTERIOR JOURNAL office and get reward. W. W. Walter.

SOMERSET.—V. R. C. writes: Elmer Allen, colored, was given two years in the pen for attempted rape on Anna Norris, white, aged 15.

SOME of the republicans are circulating a report that I am going to scratch my ticket, so please give it a blackeye in your columns. The rooster will do my scratching. John W. Bright, Hub-

TURKES.—J. K. Christian & Bro. will slaughter turkeys in Stanford and wish to buy 25,000, for which they or their agents, will pay the highest price. They will be ready for business Nov. 8.

IT was J. H. Carter and not J. M. who has made 30 barrels of brandy this season. The former is a distiller, the latter represents this great government's interests with that class of manufacturers.

FIRE destroyed two barns belonging to W. G. Rott near Millidgeville at 6 o'clock A. M. yesterday. One of them contained his crop of tobacco, valued at $800, and the other corn, hay, etc. The origin of the fire is unknown and the amount of insurance, if any, is small.

ELECTION NEWS.—Mr. Joe S. Rice tells us that the Western Union will send the news of the election, State and New York and other points to him Tuesday night and those who wish to hear it can do so for a small admittance fee to the passenger station that night.

IT is understood that Dr. Wiley, Governor Bradley's recently appointed superintendent of the Lexington Ins. Asylum, has chosen a new matron to succeed Mrs. Laura Moore, of Crab Orchard, who was appointed by Dr. Scott. The new matron, it is said, will be Mrs. Bettie Ruth, of Harrodsburg.

THE colored brother is not going to vote this time as much like sheep go as formerly. He has learned or many of him has, who his real friends are and it will take mighty little persuasion to get him to vote the democratic ticket. A number of colored men have told us voluntarily they are going to vote with us this time.

DIDN'T SAY IT.—Hon. B. B. King says he had no idea what disreputable remark had been charged to him until he asked an explanation and then he was utterly surprised. On his honor as a gentleman, he avers that he never made the remark and he offers to give $20 to each and every person who will make out that he heard him do so.

We have always had a high opinion of Mr. King and could hardly believe the statement that he had so far forgotten his gentlemanly bearing as to use language only fit for the gutter-snipe, even if it was charged on apparently good authority.

SPEAKING AT ROWLAND.—Finally 150 people crowded into Cyclone Hall at Rowland Wednesday night to hear Judge M. C. Stanley speak. He is the most magnetic orator in this section and never fails to enthuse his hearers and give them food for thought. His Wednesday night's effort was no exception to this rule and even the republicans who heard him were made to half and consider by his eloquence and logic. He was liberally applauded throughout and at the conclusion many congratulated him and bade him God speed in his race for circuit judge.

Hon. Harvey Helm followed Judge Sanday in a well-timed talk.

THE RAIDS RALLY.—The republican rally, which had been advertised extensively in this and adjoining counties, brought a big crowd to town Tuesdays night to hear the "big guns" who were touring the State in a special train in the interest of the republican nominee for appellate clerk. The Negro was greatly in the majority on the occasion and his frequent yells for "sound money," "give me the gold dollar" and such merried to some extent the little that was said by the great men who spoke during the evening. The train was late in arriving and it was considerably after 8 o'clock when Boss Davison, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced Judge George Denny, of Lexington, who immediately launched into the money question and for an hour went over the old song which is so familiar to those of the audience who had heard the little republican stumpers of last year. Fortunately no white ladies were present as the ancestors he told were almost too tough for men to hear and the better element was glad when his time was up. Twice in his speech he asked pardon for taking up so much time, saying "there are other distinguished gentlemen to address you." Gun Shoe Hunter was next introduced. He told his hearers that he was satisfied of great success this year, but that it was best for every voter to be on hand at the polls and "stamp his ballot in the front yard." He insisted that this was a republican year and that the great party would carry everything before it on Tuesday next. His speech was less than five minutes long and it was evident that Godfrey is being taken along to be seen and not heard.

"I had just went to my room to sleep, feeling tired and worn out from the seven speeches I had made to-day," said Nonnie Bailey, his ungrammatical way, when he was presented, "but an enthusiastic republican friend would have me speak a few words to this splendid audience that has greeted us." Mr. Bailey was suffering from a boil on the tip end of his nose and feet in no condition to discuss the great questions of the hour.

He told of his almost superhuman efforts to get Mr. Shackelford to meet him on the stump, but of his failure to do so, no doubt trying to impress the crowd with the fact that he was bad medicine in the democratic nominee's eyes.

"If Mr. Shackelford hasn't the money to canvass the State I'll borrow it for him," said he. "All I want is for him to meet me." The next speaker in order was Hon. John Henry Wilson, of Barbourville, who after telling that he was a Lincoln county product, said: "You want to vote the straight republican ticket. It is just as important to carry Kentucky now as it has been for the last two years when we were each time victorious. Brynn and that man Bailey from Texas and J. C. S. Blackburn tell you the democrats are going to sweep this old State this year and if they do they may succeed again and again, so you want to stop them right now. I want to say right here that I am eternally opposed to the civil service law" and turning to the Boss said, "I believe my friend Davison will use his efforts to kill the foolish law when the opportunity presents itself." The best was saved for the last so Senator W. J. Debow was the desert of the occasion. He was introduced as the first republican Senator Kentucky ever had, while the crowd wondered why the devil a better man was not selected.

He abused the free silver democrats for the hard times, enlighened Cleveland, Carlisle, & Co., threw bouquets at the boisterous, or sound money democrats, as he called them and spoke of President McKinley as Bill as pat as though they had studied from the same book at school. He didn't say anything about "dead corpses," but insisted that the democrats when in power were "reunites to their trusts." The show was very much of the pantomimic order and if anything was said or done by the aggregation that will help elect Bailey or any other republican or turncoat, it must have been done after the gentlemen were assigned to their rooms at the St. Asaph.

FARM AND TRADE.

Dr. Hugh Reid sold to an Ohio man 30 cattle, 1,000 pounds average, at 3.70. M. J. Farris bought of E. W. Lee 400 barrels of corn at $2.10 delivered.—Ad vocate.

106 cattle of 1,000 pounds, and 2,600 bales of hay for sale. Josh Jones, Stanford.

G. L. Martin, of Bowen, Ill., bought 400 cattle at 2.40 to 2.41 in Adair and shipped them home.

P. P. Nunnelley sold a car-load of hatcher and feeding cattle in Cinclinnati Monday at $1 to $3.80.

A Montgomery county farmer has a cherry tree that has bloomed seven times this year, and is now in bloom.

An old red cow came to my place some time ago. Owner will please call and get her. Thomas Best, Millidgeville.

Guinette, James A. Murphy's Gummie Wilke's gelding paced a mile in 2:05, equaling John R. Gentry's time made last Friday.

A special train of 18 cars of cattle were shipped from Richmond Saturday. J. W. Bales sent 10 to Chicago and Waggers & Cohen the rest to Cincinnati. They were bought at 3 to 3½ and were light feeders.

There were 550 cattle on the Winchester market Monday and many left unsold, says the Democrat. Some fair feeders, 900 to 1,000 pounds, brought 3¢; some plain heavy oxen were sold at 3¢; lot of 900-pound steers 3½¢; cows, weight 1,000 lbs to 2 to 2½; hogs 3¢, and while colts $2 to $3.

RELIGIOUS.

Eld. C. K. Marshall, of Harrodsburg, will exchange pulpits with Eld. J. T. Sharrod Sunday next. Elder Marshall is an eloquent preacher and he should have a large hearing.

Judge Upthegrove and Miss Addie L. Hensley, both of the Kingsville section, were married at McKinney yesterday.

The Best is always the Best.

DISC DRILL.

BEST : MADE.

LIES DON'T GO.—Messrs. B. K. Warren & Son, Stanford—Gentlemen: In reply to your letter will say that the Kentucky Disc Drill stands entirely on its merits; the makers fight the law and court and not to the papers and no purchase of real drill need rear any legal entanglement. Also that other drills must be defective in real merit when their makers seek to scare people into buying them. We guarantee protection. Yours, BRENNAN & CO.'S Western Agricultural Works, Louisville, Sept. 2. Bluff wool work. There is no mistake about this machine being double-gated. Farmers can see for themselves.

LANCASTER.

G. S. Greenleaf has returned from St. Louis, having had a very enjoyable trip.

The democrats here are profoundly grateful to the editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL for past favors and courtesies.

Mr. Hugh L. Mason, of Chicago, has been with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth, and his brother, Mr. W. B. Mason.

Mr. Thomas Ray and Miss Alice, the popular daughter of A. B. Brown, Jr., were married at the home of the bride, on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Arthur Neel's house burned near Bryantown. Loss $1,200; insurance $600. He is thankful to his neighbors for assistance rendered.

Mr. W. T. Short, deputy U. S. marshal, took John Clouse and Grant Burch from the jail here to Covington to answer the charge of breaking into a distillery near Paint Lick.

The court of appeals affirmed the judgment of the circuit court in which James Tudor was sentenced to the penitentiary for 21 years, for aiding in the killing of Marion Sebastian, a Lincoln county jury rendering the verdict.

A large crowd was in town Monday but little business was transacted on account of the drought and the interest in the election. Considerable whisky was used but there was no disturbance.

Among prominent visitors from your city was Judge M. C. Saulley, who looks like a winner. His friends were glad to see him and predict for him the victory on Tuesday which he so richly deserves.

It is said that some democrats desire to vote for Hon. Wright Kelley, the independent candidate for representative, as we have no candidate. To such I would suggest that to place the stencil under the two devices within the large squares containing them would destroy the vote. Place the cross just under the rooster's feet, within the square, and then if you desire to vote for Kelley put it in the small square to the right of or opposite his name. This will count your vote for the democratic ticket.

All the voters of the county will serve as a jury, competent or incompetent, on next Tuesday to render a verdict on the candidates for office. This duty of the people is in many instances as sacred as that imposed upon a jury in fact. Party fidelity and party principle are involved and in addition to this they are to decide who shall, in a measure conduct and control the affairs of the county, touching questions involving their life, liberty and property. The democratic ticket is made up of men who are honest, worthy and capable and this is the test that should be put to every aspirant for office. The voters owe it to themselves, their families and the country at large to consider well before acting or serious results may follow. The ticket will need a united support and such is expected of every man who has the welfare of the people under consideration.

We had quite a battle of hand-bills here on Monday, touching on the failure to advertise, in time, for the vote on issuing turnpike bonds. County Clerk Duncan first put out dodgers which placed the blame on the sheriff, although Duncan claims that he did not aim to publish any thing that would reflect on him. Sheriff Robinson afterward had bills distributed laying the blame on the fiscal court, and everybody knows that he is not to be censured, as the sheriff can only proceed by copy or authority delivered by a court or clerk in any instance, and this was not given to him in time. In order to protect the fiscal court the republicans claim that the bonds will be good and that the appellate court has rendered decisions in which it refuses to defeat the will of the people in similar cases; but in a decision in 14th Kentucky Reports the court holds that when an election is to be on a question voting a tax, a failure to advertise in time will invalidate the election if the publication is short a single day. It is also claimed that no order was made or notice posted calling for the special term of the court, which made the order calling the election, and that only two magistrates were present. These statements are given to enable the people to consider both sides and place the blame where they choose. The vote will be taken any way and it is hoped that the bonds will carry and let the question be settled one way or the other by the courts.

HELLO!

The strikers are going to work and will soon be coming. Place your orders so that we can work early and late. We thank you for past favors and kindly ask the continuance of same. We have no solicitors walking the streets, but wait your orders, which will be easily done.

Don't use credit for we have no capital to back us. We would have a telephone in our office but we can't bear.

Come and see us.
